What’s the one thing your company is known for?

ZERO has the unique distinction as the only company that offers the option of either plastic or metal cases and enclosures, providing maximum versatility. Design is critical for the protection and optimal performance of the highly sensitive and expensive equipment used in field applications and to meet military or unique commercial specifications. ZERO specializes in standard and custom rugged, MIL-Spec and custom design solutions that meet the unique needs of the toughest, most demanding industries.

Tell us something interesting or fun about your business?

ZERO’s enclosures and cases have been used to carry Apollo mission moon rocks, academy award Oscars and skates for US speed skating team. ZERO products have appeared in many movies and television shows over the last decades such as Independence Day, Lost, Men in Black, Ocean’s Eleven, The Secret Life of Walter Mitty, and Mission Impossible.
